

SNACK YOUR WAY TO A BETTER BUSINESS

Small businesses can't always compete with larger corporations' salaries or benefits, but offering small perks can go a long way to keeping your employee base happy.

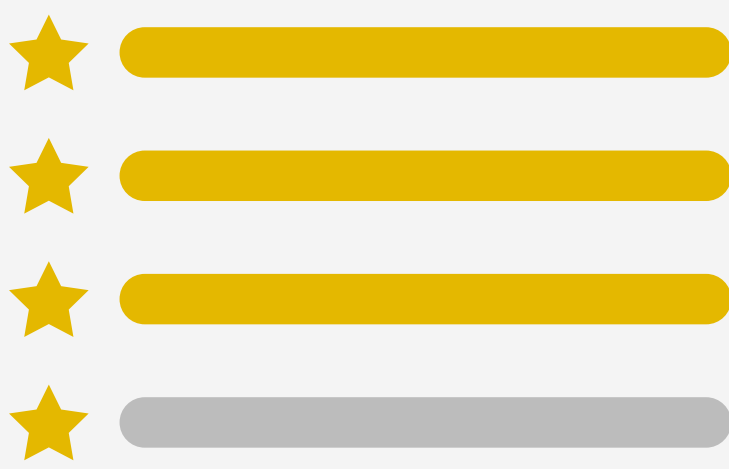

Check out these facts on how snacks increase company morale and keep them in the office:

90%
of employers

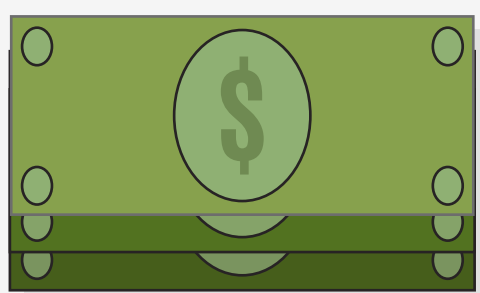

believe providing office snacks help build stronger interpersonal relationships

83%
of employees
considered fresh and healthy office snacks a major perk

60%
of employees
listed free food as one of their top three favorite perks

50%
of employees
reported leaving the office at some point to go purchase snacks

Small businesses spend between $77 to $92 per employee, per month on office supplies.
